PROLIFICS Accepted into The IBM SOA SPECIALTY
Service Oriented Architecture Approach Drives Business Agility and Flexibility

New York, NY. – March 20, 2007 – Prolifics, an IBM Business Partner, today announced its acceptance to the IBM SOA Specialty after successfully completing IBM's rigorous SOA technical and business requirements.

"SOA is an increasingly important business requirement for organizations because of the business flexibility it enables," said Sandy Carter, vice president, SOA and WebSphere, IBM Software Group. "Prolifics' commitment to SOA provides their customers with a powerful way to reduce integration costs while rapidly deploying operational SI Solutions."

As an early adopter with WebSphere Process Server, Prolifics' certified WebSphere Solution Architects, Administrators and Developers work with IBM to conduct large enterprise-scale SOA projects. By leveraging existing IT resources, introducing new capabilities, and integrating business processes, Prolifics enables its clients to be more agile and responsive to any changing business priorities, pursue new markets, beat the competition, drive down costs and maintain corporate compliance.

With SOA as a strategic focus area, Prolifics dedicated more than half of its staff to WebSphere Software and IBM's SOA approach, as well as growing by acquisition. In 2006, Prolifics acquired Promenix, Inc., a leading systems integrator focused on SOA and EAI implementations. This acquisition helped expand Prolifics' SOA services practice as well as extend its customer reach.

In the first quarter of 2007, Prolifics will engage in a 6 city POT Roadshow showcasing a real-world solution that demonstrates end-to-end integration across much of the IBM software portfolio, including WebSphere Portal, Forms, Tivoli Access Manager, WebSphere Integration Developer and WebSphere Process Server.
