PROLIFICS HONORED AS RECIPIENT OF IBM RATIONAL AWARD FOR ITS WORK WITH UK-BASED MBLOX

NEW YORK, New York – June 2, 2009 – Prolifics, one of the largest end-to-end systems integrators specializing in IBM technologies, has been selected as one of the winners of this year's IBM Rational Awards for Business Partners. These awards honor IBM Rational Business Partners that have demonstrated a deep technology and industry expertise with IBM Rational software and are delivering exceptional solutions that solve real business problems. Chosen from several hundred eligible business partners, Prolifics will be honored at the 2009 IBM Rational Software Conference on Wednesday, June 3.

Prolifics was selected as a winner of the Outstanding Solution by a Value Added Reseller / Regional Systems Integrator (SI) which is awarded for excellence in the implementation of an effective and innovative customer solution enabled by IBM Rational Software. The winning solution was created for mBlox - the world's largest mobile transaction network, enabling businesses to deliver mobile services and content around the world.

"Prolifics has set the standard for business excellence by delivering unique solutions enabled by Rational software," said Michael Loria, vice president, Business Development, IBM Rational Software. "We congratulate them on their commitment to building a longstanding relationship with IBM and are pleased to honor them as a recipient of this year's 2009 Rational Awards for Business Partners."
