PROLIFICS ACHIEVES IBM AAA-LEVEL RATING FOR TIVOLI DEPLOYMENT ACCREDITATION

New York, NY. – January 19, 2009 – Prolifics, the largest end-to-end systems integrator specializing in IBM technologies, today announced its IBM AAA-level rating for Tivoli Deployment Accreditation after successfully completing IBM's rigorous technical and business requirements. The Tivoli Deployment Accreditation identifies those IBM Business Partners with the highest standards in technical certifications for delivering Tivoli solutions by skill level competency.

Prolifics' technical excellence and leadership has been the cornerstone of its success and longevity for 30 years. In fact, Prolifics is the only systems integrator that has won the prestigious IBM Beacon Award for Technical Excellence two years in a row – since the award's inception.

This AAA-level rating further validates one of Prolifics' key messages for the past 30 years of delivering projects on time and on budget and to specification. Additionally, the IBM Tivoli Deployment Accreditation helps customers choose the best systems integrator among the 3,600 Business Partners.

In an industry where the standard is only 24 percent for successfully delivering customer solutions on-time, on-budget and to specification, Prolifics boasts a 96 percent success rate due in large part to its technical excellence and innovative solutions.
