

PROLIFICS VISIONING SESSIONS

Free, no-obligation, 30-minute Clinics by Prolifics

Prolifics' clinics are private sessions designed to explore your business needs and identify ways your organization can achieve better results and greater efficiencies. Through an analysis of your current environment, business requirements and challenges, our goal is to share insight on how you can align IT with your business goals to transform your organization. After the clinics, our subject matter experts will provide you with recommended next steps as well as a high-level brief documenting our findings.

Choose the topic that best fits your key business objectives:

"Big Picture" of SOA

Do you understand the overall "big picture" of SOA, but struggle with a vision of implementation? Many organizations are looking to implement a disciplined SOA with frameworks defined by patterns and need proper guidance to make it a success. In this session, you will hear a practitioner's point of view on these challenges and how they can be addressed. We will also share our experience of implementing SOA solutions for other customers in various industries. If you are interested in learning more about next steps after this discussion, take advantage of a full day discovery workshop designed to further your SOA implementation agenda.

BPM Center of Excellence

From choosing the right BPM products for your implementation to getting started once they are selected, many customers find that their BPM projects are most successful when they are guided throughout the implementation. Our expert will focus on BPM CoE and how you can prioritize your many BPM goals. We will also share many of our recent Center of Excellence implementations for customers. After the clinic, we can follow up with you with a BPM discovery workshop.

Messaging and File Transfer

In today's business environment, most enterprises are large, distributed organizations operating on diverse IT systems. Learn how many organizations are overcoming challenges in IT complexity and ensuring delivery of business-critical and high-value data. Topics include high availability, advanced message security and file transfer.

Ten Steps to Readiness for Identity Management

Still haven't taken the plunge into automated user access provisioning? Our security experts will discuss how your company can reduce costs and increase security by automatically managing roles, accounts and access rights throughout the user lifecycle with an Identity Management solution. Learn more about how this policy-based solution delivers business value and helps companies overcome internal challenges.

Resource, Availability and Deep Dive Monitoring

Learn more about how to deliver invaluable data to operations, management and application personnel. A subject matter expert will discuss how you can monitor WebSphere and J2EE based environments and combine resource monitoring (coupled with proactive alerting) with deep dive diagnostics to provide root cause analysis.

Portal and Web Content Management

Trying to streamline your business and improve your customer and partner experiences? With a Portal and Web Content Management solution, you can deliver a unified, personalized and collaborative experience for both employees and customers. During this clinic, our subject matter expert will discuss how to bring information, productivity and innovation to your business with high performing and scalable solutions.

Social Business and Mobile Computing

In today's on demand world, competitive advantage is determined by the speed and flexibility with which you can respond to customer demands and marketplace challenges. Our subject matter experts will discuss social networking strategies, that include wikis and blogs, as well as the benefits of delivering services, content and applications quickly to mobile customers, employees and subscribers in real time. By learning how to leverage your company's online presence, you'll be able to access and interact with the people, information and project materials you need to get your work done.
